COUNTY AGENT COMMENTS

Quitman — "The south end of the county missed the showers, but the north end is drying back out. Cotton looks better after plowing and warm weather. Rice looks okay. There are a lot of soybeans to plant."

Warren — "The floodwaters are receding. We have late, late cotton being planted."

Noxubee — "Some producers are replanting cotton. Corn is growing off good. Producers are focusing on planting soybeans."

Lowndes — "Cool nights, warm days and too much moisture continue to hamper crop growth."

Tate — "We finally got a fair week with little rain. Planting soybeans and giving special attention to sick cotton has been main farm work."
